DECISION IN CANADA.

The Master-in-Chambers Establishes a Precedent.

STILL A BRITISH SUBJECT.

He Holds That a Person May Be a British Subject and a Citizen of the United States at the Same Time.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—The master-in-chambers handed out a decision in which it was stated that a man can be both a citizen of the United States and a subject of Great Britain at the same time.

Charles Langmuir, the defendant, now the agent of a New York assurance company in Paris, France, was sued by G. H. Bolton on a promissory note for $7,000. The defendant sought to set aside the writ on the ground that he was a citizen of the United States and that the service of the writ should have been made on him personally instead of on his solicitor.

The plaintiff's solicitor, however, contended that Langmuir was both a British subject and an American citizen, he never having abjured his allegiance to the English crown. The master so decided and Langmuir must appear on the writ of summons, which according to the decision was properly served. The decision establishes a precedent.

ON HIS SECOND TRIP.

Mr. Bryan Speaks to Crowds En Route From Lincoln to Kansas City.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 12.—The silver clauds of this city, headed by a brass band, escorted William Jennings Bryan to the depot where a large crowd had gathered to say goodbye to the nominee. Mr. Bryan started on his campaigning trip through the south and east at 9:15 p. m., taking the train for Kansas City. There were demonstrations along the route, among which were those at Nebraska City and at Union.

Mr. Bryan will address the citizens of Kansas City at 9 a. m. He will continue on his trip to St. Louis, making short speeches from the car platform.

Mr. Bryan will not accompany her husband through the south, but it is expected she will join the party later.

Mr. Bryan, when he reached his car before leaving Lincoln, was called upon to make a speech. In response he said: "LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—I do not know whether I will return to Nebraska again until just before the election or not, but I go away from Nebraska feeling that it is not necessary for me to stay here. I want to say to you, my friends, that from the reports which I have been receiving I do not believe that there is a single county in this state that the Republicans are sure of carrying this fall. And more than that, every day finds our cause stronger throughout the Union than it was the day before."

Bank of England's Action.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Treasury officials are not inclined to the belief that the action of the Bank of England in raising the discount rate 1/2 per cent will necessarily result in a prompt cessation of gold imports. Gold is always paid by the Bank of England on demand in exchange for Bank of England notes, and the only effect on gold imports, it is said, can be the indirect one of tightening the money market.

The Treasury Empty.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—Fifteen army officers who went to the war office to claim their arrears of pay were informed that there were no funds with which to pay them. The officers thereupon resigned their commissions and were promptly arrested for so doing.

An Embroider Arrested.

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Herr Oskar Schuster, a director of the Norddeutscher Handels-Gesellschaft, has been arrested on the charge of embezzlement. The newspapers estimate the defalcation at 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 marks. Other arrests are said to be impending.

Incendiaries at Work.

SHREVEPORT, Ind., Sept. 12.—Incendiaries made a second attempt to burn down the town of Fairland, this county. The torch was applied to the meat market building of Orrin Crum, which was destroyed with contents, as well as the building adjoining.

Bicycle Firm Assigns.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—John McElave & Sons, manufacturers of bicycles, assigned. The liabilities of the firm are estimated at $100,000, but the value of the assets, which consist of bicycles, materials and accounts, is difficult to fix.

Had a Valuable Wife.

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 12.—A $10,000 suit for alienation of a wife's affections was filed against Dr. J. B. Williams by John Phipps. The charge is that while employed as a medical advisor the doctor became intimate with Mrs. Phipps.

Killed Two Brothers.

KNOXVILLE, Sept. 12.—In Greene county William Rieker waylaid and shot Thomas and Marshall Jennings. He was an old graduate, and Rieker sent his brother to decoy the Jennings boys out from home.

Miners Return to Work.

SEATTLE, Ind., Sept. 12.—The Jackson Hill Coal Mining company made a settlement with its men at the 80-cent scale and the miners returned to work, after being idle since the 1st of May.

Professor Child Dead.

Boston, Sept. 12.—Professor Francis J. Child, Ph.D., LL.D., of Harvard university, died, aged 71. Professor Child was perhaps the most learned gentleman in the Harvard community.

Germany May Object.

ZANZIBAR, Sept. 12.—The belief is prevalent here that Germany does not intend to acquiesce in the action taken by the British government through Rear Admiral Henry Rawson in appointing Hamoud bin Mohammed bin Said sultan of Zanzibar. Said Khahd, the alleged usurper, has been at the German consulate ever since the fall of palace on Aug. 27, in spite of the request of the British consul for his surrender.

High Jumpers.

NEW BRITTON, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The outdoor record for high jumping horses was broken at the fair in West Brighton, Staten Island. The record was 6 feet 2 inches. Amherst, owned by P. A. Hart, cleared 6 feet 5 inches, and Valencio, owned by Charles L. Hart, cleared 6 feet 6 inches. They are both noted prize winners and cross-country runners.

Earle Has a Majority.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 12.—Official returns have been received from all the counties and the very large total vote of 84,489 is shown. This is almost as large as the largest ever polled in the state in a primary election. Of this amount Evans has 40,166 and Earle 43,323, giving a final majority for Earle of 3,157.

PRICE EXTREMELY LOW

Demands For Finished Products Are Scant.

A TEMPORARY HESITATION.

Buying in Wool Is Mainly Speculative, Based on the Belief That the Prices Must Advance—Total Failures.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Better prospects and relief from monetary anxiety do not yet bring large demands for finished products, though large buyings of pig iron, wool, leather, hides, cotton and other materials continue to show a growing belief that a general upward movement in prices will come with the replenishing of dealers' stocks this fall. Most prices are extremely low.

The bank failures at New Orleans cause temporary hesitation, crop returns indicate disappointment in some cotton and some spring wheat states, prices of corn and oats make it unprofitable to sell at present, the number of manufacturing work and mines in operation does not gain, but rather decreases, reductions of wages are somewhat numerous, occasionally resisted by strikes, and all these conditions diminish for a time the buying power of the people. While many think general improvement can not come until the election removes political uncertainties, others expect soon to see the result anticipated in trade. Weekly output of pig iron decreased 26,573 tons.

Sales of wool for the week have about equalled the normal consumption for the first time in several months, not because manufacturers have more orders or are doing more work, for no gain is seen in the demand or output. The buying is mainly speculative, based on the belief that prices must advance. No considerable decrease appears in the enormous stock of print cloths.

English Statesmen Aroused.

London Papers Contain Letters About Depositing the Sultan.

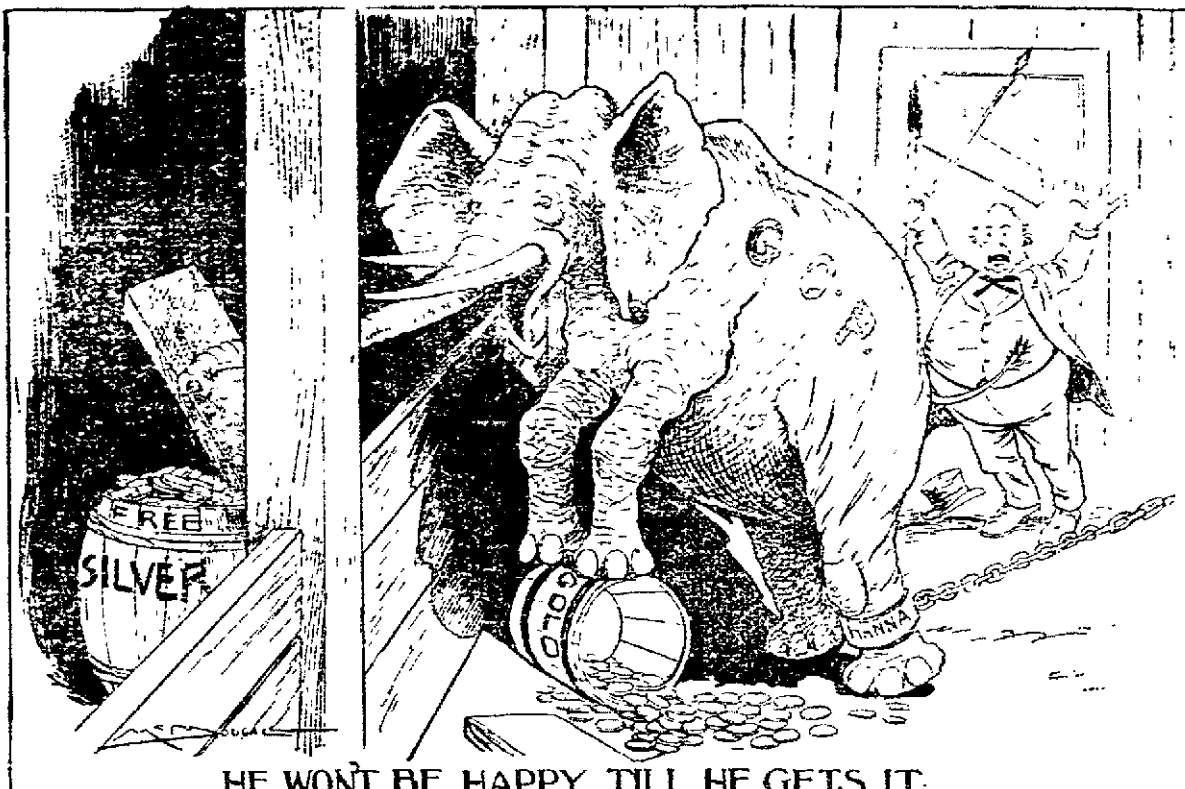

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Mr. Henry Asquith, formerly secretary of state for the home department, has addressed the following message to The Chronicle: "I shall shortly address my constituents when I shall express my views at length, but I am in entire accord with the conviction that the time has come when Great Britain should refuse to hold further terms with a government which has become a mere instrument for executing the purposes of a will either criminal or insane. The European powers, by whose favor the sultan holds his throne, can not condone his past crimes or ignore future dangers without sharing the guilt of the one and becoming directly responsible for the other. I hope we shall witness such a manifestation of opposition here as will save Great Britain from any such complicity and will give strength and authority to decided action on the part of our government."

The Chronicle in an editorial applauds Mr. Asquith's strong message. Mr. Gladstone in another letter on the same subject declares: "The use which the six powers have made of remonstrance in the past year has not been a mere failure of a mockery, but a great instrument of mischief, because it has implied that such a matter can be disposed of by discussion and has thereby supplied whole-sale and deliberate murder with the only assistance it wanted, namely, the assurance of impunity. In my judgment even silence would be preferable to such discussion."

The Daily News (Liberal), commenting editorially upon Mr. Gladstone's letter, says: "The first necessity of European peace is the deposition of the sultan."

Dead Body Found.

ATLANTA, Sept. 12.—The body of Thomas J. Dillbridge, who disappeared Tuesday, was found at Lakewood Park lake.

HE WON'T BE HAPPY TILL HE GETS IT.

For Indianapolis Nominees.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell in a letter announces his determination to vote for Palmer and Buckner.

Minister Charged With Forgery.

LUCK, W. Va., Sept. 12.—Two warrants have been sworn out charging Rev. J. A. Hecht, who has disappeared, with forgery.

Result of Domestic Discard.

RICHMOND, Mo., Sept. 12.—Charles Maidment, a prominent citizen, shot and killed his wife at their home and then killed himself.

Poisoned Buckwheat Cakes.

JERSEY SHORE, Pa., Sept. 12.—Rev. Henry Campbell, his wife and Miss Ferguson ate buckwheat cakes with rat poison in them, and all will probably die.

Jones in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Chairman James K. Jones of the Democratic national committee reached the city and held consultations with party leaders. Senator Jones said he had telegraphed Senator Hill asking an interview, but had received no response, the message not having been delivered owing to Senator Hill's absence from home.

Entered the Red Sea.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—A dispatch received here from Aden says that the port officials there have received information that two German vessels, loaded with arms for Zanzibar, have entered the Red sea and that strict instructions on the subject have been cabled to the official referred to.

Bank President Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—George L. McGill, president of the Avenue Savings bank, which recently failed, was arrested.

Weather Indications.

For West Virginia and Ohio—Light showers; clearing and cooler; light to fresh variable winds.
For Indiana—Fair, colder, north-easterly winds.

Has the United States government forgotten all about the crew of the American filibustering schooner Comptor, which was captured about two months ago by a Spanish cruiser off the Cuban coast? The men may now be engaged in unlawful business, but they are American citizens, and they are being starved to death and maltreated in that chamber of horrors, Cabanas fortress.

Against the Mosquito.

The eternal mosquito is particularly large and pesky this year. The wet summer along the Atlantic coast breeds it by the millions and billions. The pest seems far worse than it was a few years ago.

Now, however, science has taken hold of its case and is experimenting to see if it cannot be got rid of. It certainly can be. There never was an evil that there was not a remedy for. The haunts of the mosquito are in marshy, swampy ground and moist lands covered with undergrowth. The obvious remedy and the most effective is to drain and clear up all such regions. Drainage of swamps and marshes and the destruction of decaying vegetation have done away with malaria in many parts of the country.

The same process will destroy permanently the mosquito. If any plan could be devised for draining and drying the so called "Jersey flats" and the marshes along the Atlantic coast, the stinging little insect that takes away so much of the pleasure of the summer would be no more. It has been found that exactly in proportion as the lands have been drained and dried the nuisance has been abated.

If mosquito breeding ponds are in the neighborhood, the putting of fish into such ponds will quickly wipe out the pest. The fish fatten on the larvae. If kerosene is poured liberally on the surface of mosquito breeding waters, it will kill the creatures instantly. This is a good way to keep rid of them. Kerosene sprayed upon fences or walls or the columns of verandas will keep mosquitoes afar. They will not remain any place where the petroleum odor is strong.

The Special Car Fashion.

When the other day young Miss Vanderbilt was married to Mr. Henry Payne Whitney and the youthful couple went away for their wedding journey, they had a train of cars offered for their service. Their attendants and servants, their food and drink, their luggage, taken in connection with the privacy desirable for so distinguished a pair, required nothing less than a whole train. It is true the papas of the bride and groom were railway magnates, and so the train cost nothing extra.

We wish merely to call attention to a new and peculiarly American fashion. It is that of having one's own special railway train or car, the same as one's own carriage or yacht.

In Europe no person except a reigning sovereign, a member of a reigning family or an envoy extraordinary who represents a ruler would have a special car. Queen Victoria, the czar of Russia and Emperor William have usually a train for their use. It would be in bad taste for even a member of the nobility to travel in such state, and it would make a wide sensation if a duke or marquis should attempt it, no matter how rich he were. But here in this land of liberty and equality the native aristocrat is more exclusive than the titled folk of Europe dare to be.

Facts About Cholera.

The explanation given of the German cholera epidemic of 1893, by Dr. Barry, is conclusive as to the danger of water contamination. The outbreak in Hamburg, notwithstanding the new filtered water supply there, was at first decidedly startling, but the officials soon found that, owing to a settlement of some masonry connected with a conduit conveying the water from the filter beds to the pumping station, unfiltered Elbe water had got access to the supply. Dr. Barry arrives at four definite conclusions: First, that cholera diffusion invariably follows lines of human intercourse; second, that increased steam communication by land and water, especially between central Asia and Europe, has led to a rapidity in the diffusion of cholera hitherto unprecedented; third, that cholera in its progress by way of river traffic has fastened on more centers of population than when its diffusion has taken place overland; fourth, that all "explosions" of cholera have been found, on investigation, to have been referable to specifically polluted water supplies.—London News.

Temperature Gradients.

In connection with his geological and cosmological investigations Professor Clarence King has constructed a series of temperature gradients, as they are termed—that is, tables with diagrammatic representations of temperature and pressure from the surface to the center of the earth. He finds that, while there is really a very slight change of temperature from the surface to the center below a certain superficial depth, the pressure augments with one downward sweep to the center. Thus it passes 1,741 degrees at 175,000 atmospheres, thence steadily augmenting until at the center it reaches over 3,000,000 atmospheres' pressures. It appears, therefore, that the empire of heat over pressure is confined only to the superficial layer of the earth, that of pressure over heat being not far below the surface and increasing steadily downward to the center. The temperature of the earth, as a globe, according to Professor King's investigations, never exceeded 2,000 degrees C., and the central portions are made up of very dense substances, such as metals and their compounds.—Exchange.

First Days of the World.

When geology took up the world's history in early Archæan days, 360,000,000 of years had passed since the molten rocks of the sunlike earth had formed from the condensing nebula.

The cooling of the exterior had gone forward with a remarkable slowness, but at last it was hard, solid rock. The thick, heavy vapors had begun to condense, and clouds, hot and acid, covered the world, or at least its greater part.

Over the continental region the sea was more or less shallow, and the breaking and grinding of the ocean's bed laid the nucleus for future land.

A triangular island slowly appeared above the waste of waters in what is now the Hudson bay region. There appeared, too, a narrow strip which in centuries to come was to be the highland of the Hudson. There was also a coast line in the broad area covering the Rockies, small islands dotted the great northern seas where Norway and Sweden now stand.

As time passed the waters slowly became cooler, and at last life, lowly life, appeared in some structureless plants and animals.

A warm and equable climate covered the land, and a clouded sky tempered the rays of the sun, but the rocks were yet bare, and no sounds filled the air save those of a lifeless and voiceless nature—the surging of the waters and the raging of the tempest. But a gradual change was taking place. The seas adjoining these primordial islands became shallower; corals and sea lilies filled the bays; mollusks and crustaceans had begun, and for ages mollusk life reigned supreme in this embryonic world.—Lippincott's.

The Newest Hailstones.

The Washington Star reports a hailstorm in which the hailstones were like goose eggs. This is a new departure that will no doubt surprise veteran newspaper readers. From time immemorial hailstones have always fallen the size of hen's eggs, according to the reports in the papers. People finally came to believe that some mysterious law of nature enshrined all hailstones to assume that size, and know their belief is rudely upset by an anecdotal who brings in a goose egg standard. Certainly this is a revolutionary act. The first thing we know hailstones the size of ostrich eggs will be falling, and then where will we be?—New York Tribune.

HOW IT LOOKS.

The holder of a matured endowment policy in the Equitable Society sends the following graphic illustration of his feelings: Twenty years ago, when I was induced by a persistent agent to take out my Endowment policy, the premium looked very large, and appeared to me like this:—

$49.79,

While the endowment, looked at through the wrong end of the telescope of twenty years, appeared like this:—

$1,000.00.

Now, my policy has matured, and coming just when I need money, the result of my policy looks like this:—

$1,568.02,

While, looking back at the annual premiums I have paid, and realizing that they are amounts that would have been saved in no other way, this is the appearance they have:—

$49.79. Send to the undersigned and find out the cost to you of a similar policy.

College Greek and Latin.

The Norwegian parliament has taken a radical step, all out of its own head, so to speak. It has by vote abolished the study of Greek and Latin in the high schools of Norway. Norwegians are proved by statistics to be the most intelligent people, so far as common school education goes, in the world. Their parliament may therefore be supposed to have sound reason for doing away with the study of the dead languages and substituting French, English and German in their place.

Norway has done what in the course of time all ordinary colleges and schools will do. There is really no reason why the average business man should be able to read Homer and Virgil in the original Greek and Latin any more than that he should be able to read the Bible in the original Hebrew. Living languages will be of practical service in his every day task of earning his bread. Greek and Latin will not.

For those who have time to acquire it a knowledge of the Greek and Latin grammars sufficient to enable one to find the derivation of words and to translate sentences with the aid of a dictionary is all that is needed by even the well educated man in our time. The modern languages and natural and mechanical science are what the student needs today.

Some One Must Suffer.

If a Chinaman dies while being tried for murder, the fact of his dying is taken as evidence of his guilt. He has departed, but somebody must suffer, and his eldest son, if he has one, is therefore sent to prison for a year. If he has no son, then his father or brother gets a flogging. It's all in the family, and somebody has to pay for it.

REWARD

The Homicide of a Frankish Soldier on a Wife.

WEST VIRGINIA, Sept. 12.—Recently Mr. John Martin, a farmer residing south of here, received a letter from J. P. Martin, an attorney in Kansas City, notifying him that Mr. Martin had been indicted for the murder of his wife, and that he was to be tried on the 15th inst. at the county seat of that city. The letter was signed "J. P. Martin," and was accompanied by a check for $100.00.

In the fall of the year Mr. Martin stated that one of his sons, who he thought was named "John," had been indicted for the murder of his wife, and that he was to be tried on the 15th inst. at the county seat of that city. The letter was signed "J. P. Martin," and was accompanied by a check for $100.00.

DELAVAR, O., Sept. 12.—A meteoric stone fell from the heavens and plowed its way into the earth about a hundred yards from the road. During its flight the sky was lit up as bright as day, and the rock made a roaring noise. Judging from the hole made in the ground the stone was about three feet in diameter. An attempt will be made to examine it.

MCKINLEY'S OBJECT LESSON.

When Wm. McKinley spoke at Winchester, Adams county, several years ago, he announced himself in favor of free coinage of silver, and in emphasizing his position, held up a silver dollar as an object lesson, saying: "This money is good enough for you and good enough for me. Why should it not be good enough for the bondholder?" Will he explain why he is to-day a gold bug, opposed to the workingman and his money—silver?

Here is a chance for some goldocrat to make money if his assertions as to the value of a silver dollar in England are correct. A millionaire Colorado silver smelter offers to pay 90 cents each for a million standard silver dollars coined by the United States mint and delivered in London within thirty days, and will repeat the operation as often as desired. As it is asserted that a silver dollar is worth only 54 cents in London, there is an opportunity to make a profit of $370,000 on one transaction, with a chance to repeat indefinitely. But it will not be accepted.

General Bragg is sore over his defeat by General Palmer. Why not beat again and form a Bragg party? The more the merrier.

Ex-Senator Rice, of Arkansas, who was a prominent Republican politician during reconstruction days, wrote to Democratic headquarters several days ago to announce that he had abandoned the Republican party and to offer to take the stump for Bryan and silver. His offer was accepted.

A query for the workingman:—If free coinage will lower the price of labor, why is Mark Hanna so opposed to it? He has always cut down labor to the lowest possible figure; boasts of being a "labor crusher," and of having destroyed the Seaman's Union, of Cleveland.

THE TREACHERY OF GOLD.

Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, a most ardent Republican, in a speech in 1878 in the United States Senate, depicted it in graphic language, as follows (Congressional Record, Volume 28, page 1052):

"The original American idea was a single standard of silver. Gold was an innovation, and, in my judgment, a great mistake. If we are to have a monometallic standard, I believe silver to be immeasurably preferable to gold. It is less subject to fluctuation; its production is more steady; its cost more uniform.

"No enduring fabric of national prosperity can be built on gold. Gold is the money of monarchs; kings covet it; the exchanges of nations are effected by it. Its tendency is to accumulate in vast masses in the commercial centers, and to move from kingdom to kingdom in such volumes as to unsettle values and disturb the finances of the world. It is the instrument of gamblers and speculators, and the idol of the miser and the thief. Being the object of so much adoration, it becomes haughty and sensitive, and shrinks at the approach of danger, and whenever it is most needed it always disappears. At the slightest alarm it begins to look for refuge. It flies from the nation at war to the nation at peace. War makes it a fugitive.

"No people in a great emergency ever found a faithful ally in gold. It is the most cowardly and treacherous of all metals. It makes no treaty that it does not break. It has no friends whom it does not sooner or later betray. Armies and navies are not maintained by gold. In times of panic and calamity, shipwreck and disaster, it becomes the chief agent and minister of ruin. No nation ever fought a great war by the aid of gold. On the contrary, in the crisis of greater peril it becomes an enemy more potent than the foe in the field; but when the battle is won and peace has been secured, gold reappears and claims the fruits of victory.

"In our own civil war it is doubtful if the gold of New York and London did not work us greater injury than the powder and lead and iron of rebels. It was the most invincible enemy of the public credit. Gold paid no soldier or sailor. It refused the national obligation. It was worth most when our fortunes were the lowest. Every defeat gave it increased value. It was in open alliance with our enemies the world over, and all its energies were evoked for our destruction. But, as usual when danger has been averted and the victory secured, gold swags to the front and asserts the supremacy. But silver is the money of the people. It is the money of wages and retail. Its tendency is toward diffusion and dissemination. It enters into the minute concern of traffic and is exchanged day by day for daily bread. It penetrates the remotest channels of commerce, and its abundance, bulk and small subdivision prevent its deportation in sufficient amount to disturb or unsettle values. If it retires at the approach of danger or from the presence of an inferior currency, it still remains at home ready to respond to the first summons for its return."

THE DEMOCRACY AGAINST FLUTOCRACY.

In the same speech in 1878, Senator Ingalls foresaw the coming alliance between the creditor classes of New England and the East with the gold power of Europe, and said with boldness:

"It is the East against the West and South combined. It is the corn and wheat and beef and cotton of the country against its bonds and its gold; its productive industry against its accumulations. It is the men who own the public debt against those who are to pay it, if it is to be paid at all. If the bonds of this Government are ever paid, they will be paid by the labor of the country, and not by its capital. They are exempt from taxation and bear none of the burdens of society.

"The alliance between the West and the South upon all matters affecting their material welfare hereafter is inevitable. Their interests are mutual and identical. With the removal of the causes of political dissension that have so long separated them, they must coalesce, and united they will be invincible. The valleys of the Mississippi and Missouri, with their tributaries, form an empire that must have homogeneous population and a common destiny from the Yellowstone to the Gulf.

"These great communities have been alienated by factions that estrange them only to prey upon them and to maintain political supremacy by their separation. Unfriendly legislation has imposed intolerable burdens upon their energies; invidious discriminations have been made against their products; unjust tariffs have repressed their industries. While vast appropriations have been made to protect the harbors of the Atlantic and to erect beacons upon every headland to warn the mariner with silent admonition from the merchant-marring rocks, the Mississippi was left choked with its drifting sands till the daring genius of Pads undertook the gigantic labor of compelling the great stream to dredge its own channel to the sea. The opening of this avenue of commerce marks the epoch of the emancipation of the West and South from their bondage to the capital of the East. In asking the passage of this bill they are asking less than they will ever ask again. When I reflect upon the burdens they have borne, the wrongs they have suffered, I am astonished at their moderation."

A GOLDBUG'S REPLY.

The Best It Could Do With a Correspondent's Question.

A recent correspondent of the New York Evening Post asks this question of its editor:

The demand for gold has greatly increased of late years, and so much increase has taken place in its production. Ergo, the absolute value of gold, as measured in other commodities—has in late years risen and will continue to rise. Given the foregoing statements as correct, it follows that the gold standard will be unfair to every debtor, for on the maturity of his loan he will be forced not only to return the sum borrowed and interest, but also to return some additional amount in value representing the rise in the value of gold in the interim.

I should be obliged if the able writer who has already disposed of many financial fallacies in your columns would briefly explain if this is untrue.

This is the "able" reply of the editor of The Evening Post:

The assumption running through this argument and constituting its warp and woof is that after people have made contracts for dollars the government ought to see to it that when the contracts mature the dollars shall be worth neither more nor less than they were when the contracts were made. We are not prepared to say that such a system might not be devised. We only say that it has not yet been devised and that in the absence of a system we must depend on chance or on trial by jury. The silverites themselves say that it ought not to be left to chance. Let trial by jury in every such case be impracticable, and its costs would probably be like those in the fable where the monkey served as umpire between two claimants for a cheese, the whole of which passed down his own throat while he was trying to decide justice to each of the rogues. The point is that debts are of infinite variety as to amount and duration. The vast majority of them are those which run from day to day, or week to week, or month to month. The debts settled at the clearing house today are what the banks owed each other yesterday, and what the banks' depositors owed each other the day before. In order to correct a supposed injustice affecting a few contracts dated 10 or 20 years ago it is proposed to scale every other debt 30 per cent, including your last week's washing bill. What kind of justice is that?

Even this eminent champion of the money power is seldom compelled to squirm and wriggle to dispose of a "financial fallacy." And yet he cannot get away from the "banks and bank depositors," while his point is "that debts are of infinite variety as to amount and duration." So they are, and the point is likewise that the chief injustice of a currency that is steadily rising in value is not from debts made and discharged in a few days, but in those that have been running as many years, the injustice being just 365 times greater to a debtor of a year's duration than to that of a day's duration. While there are many debts that run for days or weeks only, the real estate mortgage indebtedness of the country is nearly $4,000,000,000, and it is this and not "debts that banks owed each other yesterday," nor "last week's laundry bill" that it would be unjust to pay in an appreciated currency.

If I were a citizen of the United States, I should go about with 10 to 15 bags all over me. I believe that if the system were given fair play the United States is big enough, rich enough and strong enough to maintain the par of exchange alone and to settle the ratio for the world.—W. H. Grenfell, President of the Bimetallist League, England.

Gold in its last analysis is the sweat of the poor and the blood of the brave.—W. J. Bryan.

TWO CONCEPTIONS OF COLUMBIA.

THE WALL STREET IDEA.

"LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

A few of your financiers would fashion a new figure—a figure representing Columbia, her hands bound fast with fetters of gold and her face turned toward the east, appealing for assistance to those who live beyond the sea, but this figure can never express your idea of this nation. You will rather turn for inspiration to the heroic statue which guards the entrance to your city. That figure—Liberty Enlightening the World—is emblematic of the mission of our nation among the nations of the earth.—W. J. Bryan at Madison Square Garden.

—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PHILOSOPHY OF STRIKES.

What the Gold Standard Has Done For the Workingman.

Among the various evils which the Republican policy of finance has engendered in this country may be included the labor strikes which have occurred with such deplorable frequency within the last few years.

When money is plentiful and times prosperous, no one ever hears a murmur of complaint from labor. It is only when depression settles upon the money market and the producers of the land are unable to realize anything like a satisfactory price for the articles which they produce that labor becomes restless and dissatisfied.

Strikes were never heard of until the single gold standard was foisted upon the country. Then began the long period of discontent which has continued down to the present time.

Taking the figures contained in the official records, the amount of money which the laboring men of this country have lost since 1881 aggregates nearly $200,000,000, while during the same time employers likewise have suffered to the extent of $95,000,000.

The unhappy condition of things which these figures set forth is directly traceable to the single gold standard. As the volume of the nation's currency has been restricted, prices have necessarily been reduced, and with the decline in prices there has been a consequent if not a simultaneous decline in wages. In order to restore good times and prevent the possibility of strikes it is necessary that silver should be placed on a parity with gold. Until this is done strikes will abound, and the specters of want and suffering will continue to stalk abroad through the land.

The alignment, the people on the one side and the monopolists on the other, is a sufficient demonstration to the popular mind of the proper place in this campaign for every man who seeks by his vote to produce the greatest good to the greatest number.

NO SCALING DOWN.

Under Free Coinage Silver Dollars Will Be Worth as Much as Now.

Nobody is going to be scaled down on account of the rehabilitation of silver, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. Employees and beneficiaries of life insurance policies are paid in silver dollars now, and silver dollars under free coinage will be as good as they are now. One of the effects of free and unlimited coinage of both money metals would be to bring gold into circulation on a par with silver.

A gold dollar is no better than a silver dollar now. It will buy no more and pay no more debt. That is to say, it is no better to the everyday citizen. The only reason it is better to the New York capitalist and trader in money is because it enables him to control the bond issues of the United States. The government, not by law or worthy precedent, but by the will of Grover Cleveland, supported by the Republican politicians, has set up a fictitious gold redemption policy.

I have never at any time or under any circumstances been in the employ of any mine owners individually or collectively, directly or indirectly, nor have I ever been in the employ of or been paid by any bimetallic league or association.—William J. Bryan.

GOLD MEANS REPUDIATION.

The Real Contest Now Before the People.

TO MAINTAIN THE DIVINE LAW.

That "the Laborer is Worthy of his Hire"—Under Silver the People Make Money; Under Gold They Have Reached Bottom Conditions—We Must Have Fair Prices for Domestic Products.

In these opening days of our presidential campaign we hear a great deal about "repudiation." The word is as old as alchemy as if it were as familiar as any of the epithets employed for campaign purposes. One would think from the frequent use of the term by those who advocate the single gold standard, that the people who are favoring the full redemption of silver by restoring it to the free coinage rights which it always had until they were surreptitiously destroyed in 1873 were working to bring about repudiation. The United States has not a dollar of paper money that is not redeemable in silver, nor has it ever had a dollar of bonded debt not lawfully payable in its express terms, in coin of the weight and fineness of 1870, when our "unit of money" was the silver dollar and silver, not gold, was the legal standard of measure. When we consider the vastness of our debt and the fact that it must be paid out of the profit of earnings on production, those who talk so freely of repudiation are playing with fire in a place crowded with combustibles.

There is a real repudiation, a fundamental repudiation, the repudiation of the divine law that "the laborer is worthy of his hire," which the people are now fighting against by trying to give to the exchange of products the help of silver, which will allow a profit out of which it can be paid. There is no other way to pay it. It must be paid that way or not at all. The people who are trying to continue the gold policy, which has already reduced prices of products to or below cost line, and which, if kept up, must inevitably destroy our ability to pay our debts, are working for repudiation—for fundamental repudiation, for undermining the foundation of sound and solvent conditions. If that is done, then the superstructure of debt built on the earnings of the people must crumble and fall.

If we were like England, a country having insufficient natural wealth to sustain our people; if we were just a bank and a workshop, having to go all over the world for food to supply our population, for material which their skill could fashion for man's uses and which our ships could then distribute and peddle out; if we owed nothing but were the creditor nation of the world—then, as a cold blooded business proposition, irrespective of fairness or moral rights, it might be "business" to work the people of other countries and live and get rich off the sweat of the brows of other people, and in a cold blooded business way we might pay that advantage to the limit which still permitted our debtors to earn enough over living expenses to meet interest and principal on credits we had granted them. If we were fairly to be considered as destroying the people that had our golden age, the gold standard people are now checking their gross misdeeds.

But we are a great continent, with over 70,000,000 of people, with our whole land intersected by rivers, checked over by crossing railway lines, surrounded by seas. Our natural wealth is only scratched on the surface. If we can have fair prices for our domestic products in our domestic market, we can carry our debts and win out. If our increase of production and exchange is done at constantly lowering prices, which leave no margin of profit, we must inevitably fail. Twenty-three years of gold has brought us to rock bottom conditions. Under silver we made money. With its help we shall make money again. Our people cannot afford to fail. They are, therefore, determined on a change of financial policy, on a policy suited to our needs as a surplus and selling country, which will make solvency possible. This calls for the help of silver, with full rights of free coinage at our mints at its existing ratio of 16 to 1. There is nothing dishonest in that when the rest of the world uses it at 15½ to 1. That Wall street still talks about "53 cent dollars" only proves that Wall street has not yet got out of the elementary class. Better experience, a hard school, has given the producers a more advanced education.—New York Daily Financial News.

How would the American workingman like to have a single gold standard and German wages, or Swedish wages, or Turkish wages, or Romanians wages, or even English wages? It is easily seen that the kind of standard a country has does not rule the question of wages.

Grovernor's Begins.

Ben. Charles Henry Grovernor, the lightning calculator of the McKinley boom, has returned from England with a fresh consignment of bogies. He declares the English are bitterly opposed to the election of McKinley. Of course Mr. Grovernor doesn't secure this information from the English newspapers, as they are engaged in throwing cold water on the Democratic nominee.—Exchange.

To whose advantage is the gold standard? The Shylocks of Europe and the goldbugs of Wall street. And at whose loss? The toiling masses.

ABOUT ENDED.

To-morrow's Services will Conclude the Anglaize Conference.

Proceedings of the Meetings Last Evening and To-day—Will Meet at Decatur Next Year.

Yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Anglaize Conference session was presided over by Bishop Hott. Rev. E. G. Stover conducted the devotional exercises.

The lay delegates reported, placing in nomination the names of S. Miller, W. R. Appias and M. McGinnis as candidates for delegates to the next general conference.

I. W. Lake and A. W. Ballinger were appointed on the committee on resolutions.

Rev. I. J. Imler was re-elected treasurer of the Lattrell monument fund.

The committee of finance was instructed to double the assessment for the O. U.

Rev. M. Miller and Rev. E. Counsellor were elected presiding elders. Rev. A. W. Ballinger and Rev. N. Z. Roberts, of the Fort Wayne district, and Rev. I. J. Imler and R. W. Wilgus, of the Lima district, were elected to assist presiding elders.

Rev. E. Counsellor was re-elected treasurer of the S. S.; Rev. L. C. Reed was re-elected treasurer of the O. U., and Rev. J. D. Lusk was re-elected treasurer of the O. U.'s trustee fund.

After prayer and benediction by Rev. W. J. Roberts, the afternoon meeting was adjourned.

The services last night were largely attended and were conducted by Rev. H. Dockum, of Peoria, Ohio.

Bishop Hott presided over the meeting which was called to order at 8:30 o'clock this morning. Devotional exercises were conducted by M. McGinnis.

Rev. I. J. Imler was re-elected missionary treasurer and instructed to borrow money with which to pay all claimants. A resolution was adopted instructing the ministry to collect all home missionary assessments before January 1st each year and forward the same to the missionary treasurer.

J. Mumaugh, T. Baumgardner and Geo. Hutchison were appointed tellers to count votes for delegates to the next general conference.

Rev. R. W. Wilgus was re-elected treasurer of the P. A. P. fund.

Rev. G. C. Enders, of St. Johns, and Rev. D. Leply, of this city, were introduced to the conference.

It was decided that the next session of the Anglaize conference would be held at Decatur, Ind.

Addresses were delivered by Revs. E. Counsellor, J. W. Lower, J. Miller and Bishop Hott and the morning meeting was adjourned.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the delegates again convened to elect officers and conclude the other business of the session.

A sunrise prayer meeting will be held at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning, an anniversary celebration will be held at 9 o'clock, and Bishop Hott will preach at 10 o'clock. Regular services will be held at the church to-morrow evening.

GOOD MEETING.

Perry Township Voters Addressed by Judge Robb and Mr. Klinger.

Judge Robb and Attorney Klinger were at Perry township last evening in the interest of free silver. The building in which the meeting was held was crowded with people anxious to hear the silver issue ably discussed. Many farmers were present who have heretofore been earnest Republicans, but who this fall intend to vote for the man and the principles that are in harmony with their best interests.

SEE LARGE PAPER.

For twenty-six years prior to May, 1885, I endured the tortures of rheumatism. For sixteen years was partially blind, from effects of neuralgia of the head. Ten years since was stricken with paralysis in the left side, arm and leg. The present is the first winter in sixteen years I have escaped being confined in bed. One year since I was unable to stand alone or even feed myself. After using four boxes of M. I. S. T., I can walk for hours without difficulty; suffer no pain; read without specs and enjoy excellent health at the age of 63 years. REV. THOMAS HENRY, 1022 Eleventh St., Louisville, Ky.

One box of M. I. S. T. cured our ten year old daughter of catarrh of the head, which affected her eyes and throat, rendering her almost blind and speechless. Her sight was restored in two weeks. Discharges from her head were so profuse and offensive that one could hardly remain in her room. For three months she was confined to bed under intense suffering. All physicians pronounced her case hopeless. She is now in good health. MR. AND MRS. H. CALLIS, 448 East Main Street, Louisville, Ky.

I was afflicted with Salt-rheum in one hand and foot, and came very near losing two toes. The case baffled the best medical skill I could command for nine years. Three boxes of M. I. S. T. effected a perfect cure. A. T. HARRILL, Conductor J. M. & I. R. R., Residence, 372 Spring Street, New Albany, Ind.

No human being ever suffered with Diabetes worse than myself. Five (5) boxes of M. I. S. T. Capsules cured me. ARTHUR COOK, Baggage-master Bee Line R. R., Indianapolis. Address, Brunswick Hotel.

Rev. Edward W. S. Hammond, Presiding Elder of the M. E. Church, says: "I have used M. I. S. T. for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, General Debility, Flux and Rheumatism. I am well. I have recommended it to hundreds. I never knew it to fail. I consider it the greatest medicine in the world for the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Residence, 643 North Mississippi street, Indianapolis, Ind."

My wife suffered with Kidney Trouble, and at times with pains so severe that her screams could be heard two squares away. The doctors failed to afford her any relief whatever, or do her any good; we gave her up to die. One box of M. I. S. T. Capsules cured her. I consider them worth $2,000 a box. I will answer all letters at my expense.

W. D. WILSON, Agent Erie and North Shore Dispatch, 131 Fletcher Avenue, Indianapolis.

I have been quite an invalid for three years, and so great a sufferer from Female Weakness that I submitted to local treatment from various physicians, but got worse until I began using M. I. S. T., and I now feel wonderfully well. It is truly an honest Medicine.

MRS. J. CUNNINGHAM, No. 512 Beaumont Street, St. Paul, Minn.

I suffered with lead poison for twenty-four years. Had fits every week—from eighteen to twenty at a time. Was covered with sores from head to foot; some of them as large as a saucer. Twenty-seven doctors failed to afford me even relief. Twelve boxes of M. I. S. T. in nine months cured me. I will answer all letters at my own expense.

A. M. BLUM, 392 E. Michigan Street, Indianapolis.

Since 1873 I was severely afflicted with Dyspepsia; for eight years could not ride in a carriage or street cars on account of the jar from the vehicle hurting my stomach. Had to live on the lightest of diets. After taking one box of M. I. S. T. I can eat and drink what I please, and travel as I like with perfect ease. I heartily endorse it.

MARTIN HIGGINS, 2147 Cottage Street, Newburg, Ohio.

For twenty years I was a constant sufferer from Piles and Nervous Headache, one-fourth of that time being unable to attend to business. Four boxes of M. I. S. T. entirely cured me. I heartily endorse it.

D. N. SINKER, 3674 Ontario Street, Cleveland, O.

I was troubled with Blood Poison, of the worst form, for nine years, and after receiving treatment from various doctors and using all the known remedies for Blood Poison at their command, I failed to get relief. Am happy to state M. I. S. T. has perfectly restored my health.

C. LANG, 535 Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill.

I consider M. I. S. T. the greatest blood remedy on earth. After using almost every blood remedy I could find for Blood Poison without the slightest benefit, I was induced to try M. I. S. T. Five boxes cured me sound and well.

H. A. FITCH, 177 West Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.

Being an operator in the Electrical business (incandescent work), my business is that with the process of mercury, and not being careful of myself I allowed it to poison my blood. I at once commenced taking M. I. S. T. and was immediately relieved to my entire satisfaction. I faithfully recommend it to others in my business.

J. EDWARD SKILLIN, Ontario Street House, Cleveland, O.

No. 2 M. I. S. T. No. 2

I have given personal inspection to the working of M. I. S. T. on the human system, and must say that it entirely meets my professional sanction. D. H. LOOMIS, M. D., Late Demonstrator of Anatomy, Philadelphia Medical College.

A WINDOW SEAT.

This May Be Made by Easy Home Carpentering and Upholstery.

A convenient window seat that may be used as a seat box or without the box is an excellent place to keep the separate wastes of new and old cloth, and other things that are not wanted. It can be made by the home carpenter, and it can be made by the home upholsterer. It can be made by the home carpenter, and it can be made by the home upholsterer. It can be made by the home carpenter, and it can be made by the home upholsterer.

ed on for a back to the seat can be shaped quite easily by almost any one, but the corner carpenter is always ready to assist at small expense.

When the box is ready, the cushioned seat is first made by putting hair or excelsior on the cover and a second covering of denim with a balance of the same to cover the rest of the box. Green denim has a cool and pleasing effect, or any shade that will harmonize with the room where the seat will be used.

Wearing a Veil.

The art of arranging a veil successfully and at the same time fashionably cannot be so simple as it seems, since so many women fail to accomplish the desirable result. They put their veils on so tight that they wrinkle across the face and flatten the end of the nose, and the unbecoming length is left to hang in untidy ends at the back. All veils should be gathered at a few inches in the middle on the nose edge to make the front. Fashion varies in the disposition of this little article of dress, which, if not properly arranged, can make a woman look as though everything she has on had been thrown at her. Just as present veils are made crescent-shaped, with applique lace borders, and are worn very loose, leaving the chin entirely free. Attention is also responsible for this fashion, as loose veils are more easily managed than tight ones. The latest novelty in veiling has a blue chemise and Russian net mounted over white tulle.

The Pocket Problem.

The pocket question for women's gowns is a little less satisfactorily settled than for men. In the full-skirted, back and slightly at the side of the fashionable skirt it is possible to put a pocket and with the removal of belts to a degree not known for several seasons the manufacturers have shown a sturdy appreciation of the pocket poverty of womanhood. To many of the belts are attached small purses, varying in size from the tiny one suitable for change to the full and easy purse. A woman novelty which is provided for the bicyclist, but is fortunately not copyrighted by that fortunate woman, is a little pouch of net or cord, which, fastened to the belt and with a string opening, is a safe and light receptacle for purse or handkerchief or both.—New York Times.

Deft Effects.

The rage for delectable effects has produced many delectable. White furniture, bed, dressing table and chiffonier, are treated with Dutch landscape to harmonize with delectable hangings, paper and bric-a-brac. A room so lately had a maze of delectable plates and just below, on hooks provided for the purpose, a fringe of blue and white rags running quite around the room. A woman who saw and admired the scheme declared that she would duplicate it "with improvements for in lieu of tapers I will get delectable, take the handles off and hang them below the fringe." As, however, these bells are heavy enough to hang without vibration, it cannot be seen where the improvement is achieved.—New York Times.

Seizing the Opportunity.

Clubbish—I understand you are going to marry your typewriter? Brokeley—That's right. She's the only woman I ever found that I could dictate to.—Town Topics.

"We've got a dolly that cries," is the way a little 4-year-old announced the coming of a baby sister.

A German patent costs $100, this sum covering also the tax for six years.

LIVE STOCK

THE LIVING, FAT SHEEP.

His Name Is, He Is, and He Came From Ashtam.

The difference between a savage and a civilized man is as great as the difference between a wild and a tamed animal. The difference between a wild and a tamed animal is as great as the difference between a wild and a tamed animal. forced the natives to dig it and bring it to Kama. Then he cut off the heads of them all, so they should not tell where the gold was found.

During the Ashtam expedition the Ashtams were so grateful to the British for whipping King Premph and thus saving their heads in future that they sent to Major D. Novan a large number of presents, including things to eat—fowls, fruit and nutmeg. Among the live stock was the Ashtam young man whose business here appears. The major adopted him as a pet, and took him to England. There Premph was given to the queen and added to her menagerie of beasts on the Windsor farm.

Silage For fattening Cattle.

Our experiments at stations have shown that silage made from Indian corn has a long and not materially different from that of well-dried fodder, the difference being not generally being so much in favor of the silage. It has been shown by these stations that corn silage is very material loss in its dry matter, not only while curing, but afterward, when standing in the stock. It is shown that there are slow formations going on all the time, and these, together with mechanical losses, amount to a very considerable proportion from the silage to the stock.

How People Rest.

Some Races Sit and Lie Down, While Others Crouch and Kneel.

There is wide difference in the mode followed by the various races of the world in taking their rest. It seems to the American that by far the most satisfactory way to do it is either to sit or lie down, but there are millions of human beings that rest quite as well in quite a different way.

Ore Treatment.

A process has been brought forward in Sweden, by Olin and Lofstrand, for extracting gold or bismuth from ores by means of melted lead. The process can be applied to mineral mixtures containing, for example, iron ores, limestone, bismuth, native gold, quartz, or silicates, and even when the mixtures are so poor in gold and bismuth that it would otherwise be unprofitable to work them. The method now brought forward consists in placing the ores in a bath of melted lead, keeping it as free as possible from any contact with the air. To gold ores which contain little or no bismuth (enough of the latter substance is added to reduce the melting point of the alloy as far as possible, in this way preventing oxidation of the alloy and loss of metal which would otherwise result. The bath made use of for this purpose is filtered through a cylinder, the bottom of which consists of a perforated sheet of metal covered with a layer of asbestos, pieces of iron wire and coal dust.

Cause of Nose Bleed.

In weak persons bleeding at the nose is frequently brutal and should be stopped without delay, as continued hemorrhage may prove fatal if neglected.

An Experienced Horse Breeder's Opinion.

An experienced horse breeder and dealer has this to say concerning cutting out the under side of horses' feet in shoeing: "When we attempt to alter this intricate piece of God's handiwork by cutting out sole, frog and braces, trying to make smooth and handsome to the eye the part never even exists when in motion, and intended by nature to shed or throw off these portions when necessary by the growth of new ones, we may be slowly, but nevertheless surely, undermining the structure that supports the frame, and I make the bold assertion that more animals are made irretrievably lame by the use of the knife on the bottom of the foot than by all other causes combined."

How the General Once Broke Up an Interesting Poker Game.

J. P. B. Lillard tells the following poker story, says the San Francisco Wave:

"General Grant once interfered in a most unwarranted and arbitrary manner with a poker game that was paying me a big profit," said Andrew Danner. "It was shortly after the battle of Shiloh, and we Confederates were going pretty badly down in the matter. I was on the advanced picket line one bright moonlight night, and the Yanks had a post only a few hundred yards away. We shot at each other until we got tired of the sport, then we swapped newspapers, coffee and tobacco. A dandy young Yankee corporal walked right into our post, sat down on a log as unconcerned as you please and asked us if we knew how to play draw poker. Did we? We rather thought we did. Had we any greenbacks? A few. Then he pulled out a deck of cards, and we sat down to play. Pretty soon another Yankee came over, then another, until there were six of them, and we all joined in and played a wide open game, forgetting that the cruel war was not over.

USED A KNIFE.

Jerome Woods Stabs Chet Hill in the Side With a Pocket Knife.

The Men Quarreled About a Pair of Rubber Boots—Woods, who Was also Wounded Is Under Arrest.

About 1 o'clock this afternoon Chet Hill, a colored man who is employed as porter at Frankel Bros. saloon, became involved in a dispute with Jerome Woods, also colored, about a pair of rubber boots which Woods purchased of Hill.

The two men finally resorted to blows, and Woods, who claims that Hill hit him first, drew a pocket knife and stabbed the latter in the left side just over the lower short rib, inflicting a wound an inch deep. The men then separated and Hill went to his home on west Elm street. He lost considerable blood, and a physician was summoned to dress the wound. Woods was arrested about 2 o'clock by Lieut. Wingate.

He has an ugly gash cut in his right hand, but doesn't know whether or not Hill had a knife, or whether he cut himself in the fight.

Mr. Hannan had been building a new home here in Lima, and had it almost completed. He was living with his daughter until it was finished. He was seventy-seven years old. His remains will be taken to Sidney Monday morning, where the funeral and interment will be held.

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD

Attends the Democratic Club Meeting—Address by John Klatte.

The Democratic Club met last evening in the lower assembly room at the court house, with a large crowd present. The meeting was addressed by John Klatte, who made a splendid argument for the silver cause and interested his hearers. His remarks were frequently applauded. After Mr. Klatte had closed, Mr. Ridenour was called and spoke for a few minutes. He had been amused by one statement that had been made by the gold standard people, and that was the cause of silver winning. It was showing itself stronger to-day in every state in the union than it has at any time since the Democratic nomination. Western Republican states were outspoken for silver, and the Colorado Republican convention instructed its electors to vote for Bryan and Sewall. The sentiment of silver is spreading constantly. He referred to the farmer, and stated whatever benefited him in the line of better prices benefited the country as a whole. The gold standard had been detrimental to the farmer and had effected every industry.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and to one who attends both gold and silver club meetings, it is readily seen that the majority of the people are interested in the restoration of silver as a money.

W. I. Hood, from Toledo, was invited to address the meeting next Friday evening, and accepted the same.

Water Works Notice.

STREET TALK

"Load, Jack! I see the headlight" was the frightful cry that went up from a terror-stricken L. E. & W. brakeman on an east bound freight train as it was crossing the great bridge at Fremont one night recently, and as he uttered the yell the aforesaid railroader attempted to launch his two hundred and some pounds averted into mid air, sixty feet from the terra firma cornfield that lays beneath the trestle. It all happened in an instant, and had it not been for the prompt action of conductor Jack Purcell, brakeman McGuire might have been "heading in" in another world before this.

McGuire was braking for conductor Purcell, and as they were crossing the Fremont bridge the train broke in two, pulling out a draw-bar about the center of the train. The draw-bar dropped down and began ploughing along over the ties in a manner that threatened to send a part of the train into the space below. The trouble was first discovered by the bridge walker, who, with his lamp, occupied a position on one of the small platforms at the side of the track, and as the caboose passed him he yelled "There's a draw bar pulled out on the bridge." McGuire heard him, but understood him to say "Look out for the train on the bridge," and with a bound he reached one side of the caboose platform and looked ahead. At that instant the fireman on the engine, which was then rounding a curve on the trestle, opened the fire-box door to put in a "fire," and McGuire saw what he thought was an approaching headlight, and the result would have been serious had not Conductor Purcell, who realized in an instant what the trouble was, and caught McGuire as the latter was about to jump.

ANOTHER CHANGE

The C. H. & D. Takes off Two Passenger Trains

The C. H. & D. this morning announced another change in the number of trains and their time of arrival and departure. When the company put on the two vestibule trains none of the old trains were taken off. That schedule ran for two months with the vestibule trains running close to two other passenger trains. It has been found that it was not paying to run two trains each way so close together, and it was decided to discontinue numbers 8 and 9, due in Lima at 5:05 and 6:15 p. m. The vestibule trains will continue to run the one going south will arrive at 4 p. m. and the one north-bound, at 4:35 p. m. Slight changes were made in other trains. Lake traffic has begun to fall off, and it is believed that as now arranged traffic can be handled with two trains less.

THE FAIR OVER.

Yesterday the Last Day of a Very Successful Meeting.

Attendance Good, Considering the Day, and the Track Events were Unusually Interesting.

The thirty-fourth Allen county fair closed with the day yesterday, and has been declared one of the most successful fairs ever held in this county. The attendance yesterday was good, considering the fact that it was the last day, and the track events, which were the chief attractions, were unusually interesting.

During the afternoon the following new directors for the agricultural society were elected: A. Harrod and Geo. Hall, Lima; Samuel Lutz, Amanda township; A. Helmer, Bath township; Daniel Palmer, Monroe township; M. Edgcomb, Richland township; E. W. Ennen, Sugar Creek township.

There were but two races, besides the Rettig combination performance, on the programme for the afternoon, and one of them, the 225 class pace, was unfinished on account of darkness, after six heats had been run.

The first race, a 240 class trot, was run in three heats. The race was won by Tillie Ferguson, she winning every heat. Nolin Vohn took second, Liberty third and Katherine fourth. Time—2:11, 2:23, 2:20. After six heats were run in the 225 class pace, the purse was divided between the owners of Harry W. Red Streak and Teckle, those horses having won two heats each. Frank Lambert won fourth by taking one second, one third and three fourths. The two fastest heats were run in 2:22 each.

VERDICT OF GUILTY

Returned by the Jury in the Halm Case Last Night

The jury in the case of the state against W. B. Halm, charged by the State Dairy and Food Commissioners with having sold impure peapots butters, retired from the court room at 4 o'clock last evening and did not return until 11 o'clock, when they brought in a verdict of guilty as charged.

Justice Mowen imposed a fine of $50 and the court costs upon the defendant, and overruled a motion for a new trial.

The defendant's attorneys then made a motion that the court suspend the judgment, which was granted, and a notice of appeal was issued.
